Wunderlich, Moore become SRES certified

Terry Wunderlich and Lynn Moore, sales associates in the Pacific Union GMAC Real Estate St. Helena office, have obtained the senior real estate specialist certification.

Wunderlich and Lynn Moore join Pacific Union's Diamond Service, the first sales association of any major California brokerage to specifically serve real estate needs of senior home owners.

The SRES certification means that Wunderlich and Moore can now offer clients information on real estate and resources for estate planning, financing and alternative housing useful to senior home owners. The senior real estate specialist is a professional real estate rating certified by the California and National Associations of Realtors.
